

DECLARES OWEN BILL WOULD MEAN AN END TO STOCK EXCHANGES

Van Antwerp Also Sees Peril to Free Press in Assumed Power of Congress.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—W. C. Van Antwerp, a governor of the New York Stock Exchange, who appeared before the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency yesterday, told some inside workings of the Stock Exchange, and in attacking the Owen bill for stock exchange regulation said:

"The adoption by the New York Stock Exchange of the regulations specified in the Owen bill would result at once in the withdrawal from the list of substantially all the $10,000,000 of stocks and $10,000,000 of bonds now listed there. The number of the securities remaining on the list, or hereafter to be listed under these provisions, would be so small that the Stock Exchange would cease to be a market of importance."

"The Stock Exchange wants nothing whatever to do with the listing of new securities, or with the organization, capitalization and flotation of these securities. It is a duty that clearly belongs to the Government, and we of the Stock Exchange will rejoice with a full heart when the Government undertakes that responsibility."

"The bill not merely excludes from the mails, telegraphs and telephones the transmission of quotations made on stock exchanges not complying with this law, but it excludes every form of communication, by whomsoever sent and to whomsoever addressed, in any way relating to any transactions in securities upon an exchange not complying with these requirements."

"If Congress may exclude from mails newspapers containing truthful (although prohibited) reports of transactions upon an exchange, there is no reason that I can see why Congress cannot similarly exclude newspapers containing comments on the doings of the minority political party, or any other matter which the majority in Congress might wish to withhold from the public. Fancy how pleased Col. Roosevelt would be with that prohibition!"

CIRCUS FOLK TESTIFY.

Two press agents and a one-time programme boy of the Barnum & Bailey Circus were the principal witnesses yesterday before Supreme Court Justice Thompson and a jury at White Plains, where Mrs. Ann Isabelle Hutchinson of New York City is seeking to have set aside the will of her sister, Mrs. Louis Ruth Bailey. Mrs. Bailey, who was the widow of James T. Bailey, owner of the circus, left Mrs. Hutchinson $10,000 a year. If the will should be set aside she would get a house and a car.
